■ PERSONAL INFORMATION

I was born in Chongyang, a frontier town in center China. I finished my undergraduate life in Hubei University, where I received the basic Chemical skill training and thinking training. After that, I obtained M.S. degree in Fuzhou University, where I synthesized a series of metal organic coordination polymers based on Cd-Ln(3d-4f) metals and researched their luminescence properties. Now I am a Ph.D. candidate in Wuhan University. I am trying to study relationships between structures and properties of Metal-organic Frameworks (MOFs) and hoping to create new materials with good properties.
