■ PERSONAL INFORMATION

I am currently majoring in chemistry in Hongyi Honor School of Wuhan University. Since the chemistry interest class in the second grade of junior high school, I have had deep love for the chemistry, and its research fields of exploring the laws of changes in everything deeply attracted me, so since then I have decided to major in chemistry, eager to enter the laboratory to do research, and become a chemical worker.

In my personal life beyond study, I love to enjoy ancient Chinese literature and popular science books, ride a bike, and watch movies etc. In addition, I am also learning the guitar. In school life, I have met many friends and friendly predecessors, and they encouraged us to study together at the same time.
